Yoga Body Works and Stretches

We work in the belief that tightened muscles can lead to the diminished flow of energy in your body. When energy can't flow freely, you can become inflexible, suffer pain and feel stiff. Overtime, this can lead to shortened muscles and connective tissue that affects your posture, immunity and organ function -- all of which can speed up aging and disability.

This session consists of a series of interactive movements, stretches and rhythmic massage along the body's energy lines and pressure points. It is a radically relaxing and deeply revitalizing form of energy-balancing bodywork, uniquely blending assisted yoga postures, stretches, breath techniques and traditional Thai massage techniques into a blissfully integrated experience.

The session leaves the body and mind relaxed and heightens one's senses, especially those of hearing and feeling.

Pranayama mudras and bandhas

A Yoga technique to control our breathing that can result in an increase of the flow of energy within ourselves. WITH LAURA TIMMUSK

Laura is a yogi, yoga and meditation instructor as well as a physical therapist. She was born in Estonia but she grew up in Sweden. Over the past seven years she has lived, worked, taught and studied around the globe, from Indonesia to Spain.

She has been practicing yoga and meditation since she was a teen. The therapeutic effect on her created an interest in deepening her knowledge. When she finished high school she went to South and Central America where she followed through a guided meditation course in Guatemala. Following her travels her interest grew and during her physiotherapy university studies she went to Rishikesh, India to do the Meditation and Hatha Yoga Teacher Training course. She returned to university with the wish to introduce yoga and the therapeutic side of it to the university. She wrote her bachelor's thesis about yoga as a therapeutic treatment. Laura's most recent yoga journey took her to Bali, where she followed through another training for teachers with her gurus and disciples of both yoga legends Pattabhi Jois and B.K.S. Iyengar.

After the teacher training in both India and Bali, Laura's style expanded. Her classes today are based on a Vinyasa Yoga style with focus on alignment, breath work and clarity of the mind to ultimately create balance in the physical, mental and spiritual body. She always adapts every class so it is relaxing, meditative, energizing and breaks down challenging asanas (positions) so they are accessible but still fun for every level, from beginner to advanced.

Vinyasa Yoga is a series of asanas (yoga poses) that are synchronized with inhalations and exhalations, creating a mind and body strengthening sequence. The synchronized breathing relaxes your mind and helps to release any blockage of energy flow throughout your body. The breath will become stronger and faster and so will the movements that will produce sweat and expel toxins. There will be a short consultation before the class so that it will be designed for you, so that you get the best possible experience.

Meditation and Pranayama

Meditation is the medicine of the mind, a practice in which an individual trains to calm the mind and bring forth a more present consciousness. It is not always easy to accomplish this by yourself, and therefore a guided meditation is an excellent way to give a break to the busy mind. The class is a guided meditation in which a practitioner follows the mental instructions given by the teacher. Pranayama means to control of the breath or the vital energy. Pranayama is just as important and beneficial as yoga asanas and meditation. Pranayama consists of meditative breathing techniques that will help to calm and strengthen the mind and centre the self, and assists with the meditation practice.

Standup paddleboard yoga is asanas (yoga poses) practiced on the paddleboard in the most serene setting you can imagine. Moving to the water adds a whole new dimension to your practice, on the water you have no choice but to be present and focused. Your mind has no desire to wonder off to other thoughts about the past or the future. You can let go of your expectations and judgments with your mind focused on the foundations of yoga. It's a fun practice with some major benefits, for the mind as well as the body, and the best part is if it gets too hot, then a cooling dip in the sea is not far.

Look out for Laura's paddle board demonstration in the Anse Chastanet Bay on Tuesdays at 12:15 pm.
